The Tavistock and Portman Digital Academy:
Here for you, wherever you are.

The Tavistock and Portman Digital Academy

For the past 100 years, we've been trusted pioneers of psychoanalysis. Today, our new Digital Academy allows you to experience education from the Tavistock and Portman anytime, anywhere.

What makes our Digital Academy different?

Digital Academy courses have been carefully developed by our clinical experts to allow you to learn with the Tavistock and Portman NHS Foundation Trust anytime, anywhere. Each course functions as a complete online learning experience – delivering practical, reflective and forward-thinking learning opportunities, and integrating key elements of our unique approach to teaching. So, although the courses may be virtual, the connections, capabilities and confidence that you'll build will be very real.

Our Digital Academy has been established to evolve our offer – to widen access and engage new learners, without losing the qualities that make our learning experience so special. As we celebrate our 100th year, the spirit of innovation from our founders is never more evident than in this new development.

Brian Rock, Dean of Postgraduate Studies and Director of Education and Training

What types of course are offered?

With a choice of live and self-directed online courses and masterclasses – each one carefully designed to reflect the key elements of our unique teaching model – our Digital Academy is ready to open doors, open minds and start life-changing conversations. All close to home, at a time and pace that suits you.

Masterclass

Delivery length 1 hour
Learning hours 1 hour
Certification N/A

A live-streamed presentation, conversation or panel discussion on specialist and topical areas of interest, led by senior NHS Trust clinician-trainers, with plenty of time set aside for you to submit questions directly to the clinician, and access to a recording afterwards.

Mini Course

Delivery length 1 week
Learning hours 5 hours
Certification Certificate of completion

A subject introduction with engaging online content produced by our clinical educators. Mini courses are entirely self-directed, so you can join whenever you want, and work through the content at a time and pace that's convenient for you.

Short Course

Delivery length 4 weeks
Learning hours 20 hours
Certification Certificate of completion

You will join a cohort and access your learning through a virtual learning environment, offering a combination of interactive lectures and activities, videos, webinars and moderated discussion forums. Short courses run monthly, and all cohorts have an assigned online tutor.

Trust Certificate

Delivery length 1 year
Learning hours 150–200 hours
Certification Trust Certificate

A year-long online course which introduces the key concepts of the subject and delivers the core knowledge needed for progression onto a higher-level qualification. Features include interactive lectures and activities, seminars and tutorials, set readings, a self-reflective journal and an optional project.

I found the course so useful and interesting – if I could, I would enroll and start again tomorrow. I will keep an eye out for any similar courses from the digital academy, it is such a convenient way to learn.

Digital Academy Short Course Student

Excellent content and even more engaging than I had hoped for.

Digital Academy Mini Course Student

This course enabled me to develop my understanding and interest in a highly complex area. The learning material was well presented and easy to navigate at my own speed.
